Sermon on the Mount:

Kingdom Values for the 21st Century

Dietrich Bonhoeffer said that renewal and revival of the Church will come only if all believers are to come together to pledge uncompromising allegiance to the Sermon on the Mount and to live by the standard Jesus set.

Jesus' Sermon on the Mount is the code of conduct expected of believers throughout the ages. In Matthew 5–7, Jesus sets the standard for Christian conduct, ambitions, lifestyle, relationships and, most of all, devotion to God. He highlights the distinctive qualities and values that those who profess faith in Christ are expected to live by.

The course will look at the purpose of Jesus' teachings and the relevance of His moral expectations in this time and age. It will examine:

- The distinction between true and false spirituality.
- Jesus' warnings against self-righteousness.
- The need to cultivate persevering trust in God and to finish well.
- The secret of Christian joy and how to stand against temptation and worldly influences that lure us away from God.

About Revd Peter Chen

Revd Peter Chen and his wife Rosalind were members of SJSM for some 25 years prior to his posting to St. Andrew's Cathedral after his ordination.

Revd Peter is concerned with the dangers of shallow faith in believers today. His passions are to challenge and equip believers to be faithful witnesses both in the Church and in the world. He firmly believes that in a plural society like Singapore, it is critical to build in all believers the right doctrinal foundation and to help them live distinctively for Christ.

During his time in pastoral service, he initiated and developed a holistic Christian Education Ministry and a Discipleship Programme for both new and mature believers for each of the churches that he has served in.

Revd Peter is convinced that God has called every believer to be a disciple and a disciple-maker.
